ANIMAL AND HUMAN WELL-BEING:
OUR PURPOSE, OUR INSPIRATION AND OUR AIM

Boehringer Ingelheim Animal Health is a global leader in animal health. We are part of Boehringer Ingelheim, a multinational, family-owned company, founded in 1885.

The lives of animals and humans are interconnected in deep and complex ways. We know that when animals are healthy, humans are healthier, too. By delivering value through innovation, we enhance the well-being of both. The Boehringer Ingelheim Animal Health business is a global leader in animal health and part of a global, family-owned company, Boehringer Ingelheim, founded in 1885.

We discover, develop and manufacture vaccines, parasiticides and therapeutics, complemented by diagnostics & monitoring platforms. We strive to go beyond medicine to better predict, detect and prevent animal diseases before they arise.

Across the globe, we work to meet the growing demand for protein and the increasing needs for animal companionship. With our innovative solutions, our highly-skilled employees support farmers, veterinarians and pet owners who raise and deeply care for their animals.

Humans and animals share a fundamental bond, and as animals play an increasingly significant role in our lives, we aim to make a positive difference in the lives of both through ground-breaking innovation and our deep passion for animals.

WE PARTNER FOR SUCCESS

We strive to be a partner of choice in this exciting yet ever-changing animal health industry.

We collaborate with key industry partners, emerging start-ups, academia and world-class scientific institutions that share the common interest of improving the health of animals and advancing animal care. We join forces with prospective science-driven businesses, as we are, to accelerate our growth and innovation efforts to address unmet needs in the animal health industry.

We believe that collaboration and shared innovation can lead to groundbreaking solutions to better predict, prevent and detect disease, as well as to treat them. Our partnerships combine complementary talents and expertise as well as leverage new technologies and science, resulting in the development of comprehensive, long-term, innovative solutions for animal health where they are needed most.

WE CONTINUOUSLY INNOVATE

Our Global Innovation organization pioneers the science that leads to ground-breaking discoveries in highest areas of medical need. Our work to develop and deliver innovative animal health treatments and preventive therapies helps veterinarians, pet and livestock owners, and public health officials around the world improve animal health today and tomorrow.

Using a disease-centric approach, we work across geographies and species to deliver a robust, innovative pipeline of safe and effective vaccines, therapeutics and parasiticides for companion animals and livestock. Our innovation activities are supported by our broad internal expertise in Animal Health, as well as through close collaborations with our colleagues in Human Pharma. Our external partnerships with both start-ups and leading entities worldwide have led to the development of breakthrough scientific solutions.

Our strong expertise in developing new products and new ways of delivering them – as well as extending the benefits of our existing products through new species or claims – ensures a focused and differentiated pipeline that truly delivers value through innovation and fulfills our passion for improving animal and human well-being.

WE DEVELOP TAILORED SOLUTIONS

We closely work with our customers, developing tailored solutions for them, anticipating their future needs, helping them grow their business and succeed.

All of our customers, be they farmers, veterinarians or pet owners, can rely on our expertise and our profound knowledge of the market, including its opportunities and challenges. As trusted partners, we bring value and provide differentiated services to our customers through our daily efforts and our passion for animals.

WE CARE

We are committed to making a difference in the world. As a One Health company, we embrace a focused and comprehensive corporate sustainable approach, aligned with our strategy. Through our actions, we strive to address the most pressing sustainability challenges and opportunities: emerging and zoonotic diseases, food security and rising demand for animal protein, increasing interest in animal well-being, stronger human-animal bond and environmental degradation.

We know that our impact can go beyond our products and services. We work tirelessly to help expand access to responsible animal healthcare to promote food security and educate communities worldwide on the importance of prevention. We take effective steps to minimize our environmental footprint and protect the environment at our production sites as well as through resource-conscious product design. In addition, we put special emphasis on the social dimension of sustainability through initiatives supporting our employees as well as through our engagement with social and health entrepreneurs under our Making More Health program.

Last but not least, we also support organizations around the world that recognize the power of the human-animal bond and its positive effect on both humans and animals.

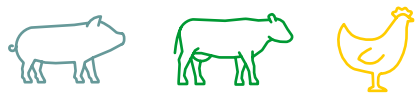

OUR DIVERSE PORTFOLIO – LIVESTOCK

Our livestock business (poultry, swine, ruminant and Veterinary Public Health) is driven by innovative solutions for parasiticides, vaccines and therapeutics that predict, prevent and treat disease in livestock. We have a history of collaborative partnerships with livestock producers, livestock veterinarians, government officials and non-governmental organizations.

We help livestock customers produce high quality and safe food using fewer natural resources. In addition, we strive to address some of their key challenges, such as the need to produce more protein cost effectively to feed the world's growing population. In response to an increased public health concern over antibiotic resistance and the need for food safety, we focus on developing solutions that prevent or reduce the need for antibiotics while at the same time improving the quality and safety of our food and contributing to animal welfare.

OUR DIVERSE PORTFOLIO – COMPANION ANIMALS

As a leading global player in the pet and equine markets, Boehringer Ingelheim Animal Health helps provide longer and healthier lives for companion animals.

We are committed to expanding our pet health solutions offering and growing our leadership position throughout the world while continuously having animal well-being as our number one priority. More than ever before, companion animals are considered an integral part of the family, and their owners are paying closer attention to how they manage their animals' health and prevent illness. They are also seeking healthcare solutions through new channels, such as websites and mobile apps. We monitor and respond to these trends to ensure we address our customers' needs and provide our services whenever, wherever and however they require.

We build upon our long-standing success in veterinary medicine to create advanced health solutions that continuously adapt to the developing needs of both our partner veterinarians and companion animal owners.
